Forward-looking statements such as earnings forecasts and other projections contained in this release are based on information available at this time and assumptions that management believes to be reasonable, and do not constitute guarantees of future performance. Actual results may differ materially from those expectations due to various factors.

- As of the three months ended March 31, 2018, the following changes have been made.
 1. The Beauty Care Business has been divided into the Cosmetics Business and the Skin Care and Hair Care Business, changing the four former reportable segments into five.
 2. The Curél derma care brand, which formerly had been classified as skin care and hair care products, has been included in the Cosmetics Business, and the Success men's products brand, which formerly had been classified in the Human Health Care Business, has been included in the Skin Care and Hair Care Business. Net sales and operating income for the same period a year earlier have been restated accordingly.
 3. Due to the reorganization of the sales organization of the Consumer Products Business in Japan, operating income for the same period a year earlier has been restated.

Overview of January-March 2018

Started the year as expected in a persistently severe competitive market environment. The Kao Group aims to achieve its full-year targets by launching more new and improved products from April onward.

➤ Cosmetics Business

Under new management, sales in Asia and sales of the Curél and SUQQU brands remained strong. More efficient use of expenses in the mid-price segment improved profitability substantially. The Kao Group will conduct full-scale structural reform of business in the mid-price and high-price segments in Japan toward achievement of K20.

➤ Skin Care and Hair Care Business

In skin care products, Bioré grew steadily in Japan and Asia but struggled in the U.S. due to intensifying competition. Sales of Jergens grew in the U.S. Meanwhile, in hair care products, John Frieda continued to struggle amid intense competition in Europe.

➤ Human Health Care Business

Sales of Merries baby diapers decreased in China due to the effect of the initial shipments associated with reforms of the sales structure there in the same period a year earlier, among other factors. Operating income increased due to the growth in sales of Laurier sanitary napkins and MegRhythm steam thermo sheets.

➤ Fabric and Home Care Business

Sales of fabric care products were unchanged from the same period a year earlier in an intensely competitive environment. Sales of home care products grew steadily. Operating income decreased due to factors including intensifying competition, an increase in raw material costs and a loss on disposal of property, plant and equipment.

➤ Chemical Business

Sales of oleo chemicals and performance chemicals grew due to firm demand. Sales of specialty chemicals increased due to the contribution of an inkjet ink operating company in Europe that became a consolidated subsidiary in April 2017. Operating income decreased due to the impact of selling price adjustments associated with fluctuations in raw material prices.
